

PLATFORM MEN GET NEW SCALE

Railway and Light Company
Puts New Wage Schedule Into Effect.

RAISES MINIMUM RATE

Under Scale as Granted Maximum May Be Attained in One Year, Instead of Ten.

As a Thanksgiving present to its employees, officials of the Chattanooga Railway and Light Company this morning announced a new wage scale to become effective on Dec. 1. The wage scale announced for the platform men is on a graduated scale from 24 cents to 38 cents, dependent upon the length of service with the company. The raise was granted following the decision of the war labor board in other similar cases. It was made so that the scale for the platform men here would be the same as in other southern cities. Supt. E. D. Reed, of the company, said this morning that the raise had been made in accordance with a promise made some time ago to the men that the officials would conduct an investigation of the conditions. The new scale was a result of a conference of the officials following the return of Vice-President Hoover from Wash- ington Wednesday afternoon. The effect of the raise will be to give the platform men a chance to get the minimum per hour without serving at the lower rates for so great a length of time.

On Oct. 1 the local employees were granted a 5-cent raise over the old scale. This gave them wages a little in excess of the average southern city at that time. Supt. Reed said that the raise would surely be satisfactory to the men, since they are re- ceiving exactly the same scale as

A Shampoo Worth Trying

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is en- tirely and properly cleaned each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a tea- spoonful of Canthox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo-liquid, enough so it is easy to apply to all the hair in- stead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and into every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities, it is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the latter so fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quietly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—(Adv.)

Programs were arranged at the various headquarters at Chickamauga park for Thanksgiving day, and a large number of the soldiers remained at camp to take part in the events. Relatives and friends of the men stationed at Chickamauga park were seen in large numbers at the different events, and the soldiers were also permitted to invite them for Thanksgiving dinner and give them a taste of what real army life is; to let mother or sweetheart sit beside them in the big mess hall and eat out of the army dishes, as they have described in their letters over and over again. The boys who remained in camp for Thanksgiving dinner were not disappointed, for a regular Thanksgiving dinner, with the cranberry sauce, turkey and all the trimmings, was served. It was anything else that goes with it, was prepared in the various army kitchens by Uncle Sam's cooks.

The patients at the hospital wards were not overlooked, and they were reminded in many different ways that it was Thanksgiving, especially the convalescents, as many of the women from Chattanooga went out to visit these soldier boys.

IT PAYS TO BE HONEST

Story of How Gov. Rye Got a Dollar in Change Returned.
Gov. Tom Rye and Lewis Pope, of the state board of control, passed through Chattanooga last night en route from Knoxville, where they had attended the funeral of Lieut. Tyson, and their passage was the occasion of a human interest story that emphasizes that old adage, "It pays to be honest."

Gov. Rye purchased his Pullman ticket from the night clerk, Robert Carkey, but after he had left the window the agent discovered that the governor had handed in a dollar too much.

The agent found the governor talking to a local man, so Mr. Carkey called the local man over and explained the situation and promptly returned the governor's dollar, for which he received the chief executive's thanks.

INTERMEYER EXCEPTS

Claims Wickersham Fails to Note That President is Commander of Army.

New York, Nov. 28.—Samuel Untermyer, eminent authority on constitutional law, today took exception to the statement by Former Gov. George Wickersham, that Vice-President Marshall may have to take the oath of office as president of the United States when President Wilson goes to Europe. Mr. Untermyer said:

"His (Mr. Wickersham's) labored argument ignores these facts: That by this same constitution, the president is all commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States; that the president, in his duty to negotiate treaties and to conduct our foreign relations; that no treaty of peace has yet been signed, and that his absence abroad so far from evincing inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, is in the exercise of what appears at the moment to be his most important constitutional functions. Surely the constitution did not contemplate that the president be in two places at the same time nor that, if his duty required him to be in one place outside of Washington, there should be two men acting as president at the same time, one in Washington, and one outside of it."

POEM BY LOCAL WRITER

Read Before the Chattanooga Writers' Club by the Author.

The following original poem was read by Mrs. John Lamar Meek, at the last meeting of the Chattanooga Writers' club:

"A Thanksgiving.
"When I survey the years that mark the past,
Reflect upon the honors and the charm
That life, in lavish store, has held for me,
In all my arrogance I stand aghast
That so much sordid self-aggrandizement
No little Just Praise to God I see.
We are but creatures of His own design,
Who enter life's complexity and strife;
Some are by nature weak, while some
are blest
With vast ability—a spark divine
Of genius, or by some rarer gift possessed.
For these to reach exalted heights and the sweep of fortune's favor, and of fame
Is no more, therefore, a hard or fickle
course;
Far easier it is to thoughtless grow,
Forget in their success, to give the
To Him who of their blessings is the source.
"And so, as I look forward to the maze
Of future life, if such be granted me,
No more what the frailties of my ways.
If there be some achievement, then I'll raise
My grateful eyes and heartfelt songs
alto:
To Him be all the merit, all the praise!"

appeared to be very positive, leaves little hope in their hearts that Ed- win is alive. Their hearts are torn with grief over the startling news that the brave soldier who was their only child. The last letter they received from him bore the date of Oct. 11. In that message he said his company had been in the fight several days and that the command had been killed and wounded, but re- lief was expected soon.

According to the letters which con- tained news of Edwin Hale's death, Chattanooga boys covered themselves with glory in the heavy fighting in which Hale was killed.

Edwin Stanton Hale, Jr., was born in this city and educated at Notre Dame. He was a member of the Hamilton Trust and Savings bank. He enlisted on September 19, 1917. He went across last May.

JAIL PRISONERS ENJOY THANKSGIVING DINNER

ROAST PORK, RICE PUD-DING ON MENU.

Interior of Bastille Clean From Top to Bottom—Filth
Not Tolerated.

Prisoners in the Hamilton county jail, which is characterized by C. C. Menzler, as pronounced by Day Jailer Elliott, will consist of roast pork, mashed potatoes, turnip soup, slaw, cornbread, rice pudding and coffee.

Are present the "residents" of the county bastille number about eighty-five. Sheriff R. P. Bass took pride in showing a reporter through the jail. There was absolutely no filth anywhere, the floors and walls were clean and the iron work showed it had been well scrubbed. The sheriff was all smiles as he accom- panied the newspaper man from floor to floor. He wanted the search- er after news to see for himself— he saw. In the big kitchen in the basement the long tables were scrupulously clean, and the aroma of roast pork was more than sufficient to arouse hunger. The cook opened the door of the oven and pulled out a great pan of deliciously brown meat. On the top of the stove was a large can of boiling soup. Brown cakes of cornbread on one of the tables looked mighty good.

The jail prisoners are given biscuit once a day. As the sheriff went through the corridors he had a kind word for the prisoners and they ap- peared to be anxious for dinner time, as there was no trouble to get a whiff of the roast pork.

Mr. Menzler, who was in the jail office at the time of the reporter's visit, was profuse in his praise of the cleanliness of the interior of the big building. No cockroaches were seen.

"BILLETED" IS CLEVER

Play Replete With Epigrams and Unexpected Humor.

Never was the maxim that "the play is the thing" more strikingly ex- pressed than in a Chattanooga audience than in the presentation of "Billeted" at the Lyric last night. Despite the undoubted excellence of the cast, head- ed by the renowned and accomplished Margaret Anglin, it was the extreme cleverness of the play, both as to struc- ture and literary quality, which made the offering so enjoyable. The dialogue abounded with sharp epigram, and the situations were worked up with a faithfulness to detail reminiscent of Booth Tarkington.

The play, built around the English billeting system, was written by P. Tennyson Jones, whose sentimental- ized all her work, and H. M. Har- wood. The amusing and perplexing difficulties which would naturally arise where strangers are thrown into the intimate contact as following the ap- plication of the system are intensified by one of those plots in which an impos- sible situation suddenly solves itself to the satisfaction of everybody.

SOUNDS DEATH KNEEL OF STUDENTS' CORPS

WILL DEAL GENEROUSLY WITH MEN.

University of Chattanooga
Wins Praise From Regional Inspector.

The students' training corps of the University of Chattanooga will be dis- continued some time between now and the end of the first quarter, Dec. 21. Orders to this effect received by the military authorities and President Hix- son by telegram will be followed by more detailed instructions, probably Friday or Saturday.

Communications received by Dr. Hix- son from Gen. Reese, head of the col- lege training system, indicate that the government will deal very generously with college students discharged from the S. A. T. C. Many students at the college left good jobs to enter the corps, and cannot continue in school now that they will no longer be supported by the government.

The students who leave school with the discontinuance of the training corps will be in the minority, however, according to Dr. Hixson. Many students now enrolled have every intention of attending college even if the corps had not been established, and of course these will continue in school. Others have had a desire for education fostered in them by their attendance while in the training corps, and they will also remain if possible.

The University of Chattanooga has made an enviable record in its experi- ence as a United States army post, and won the highest of praise from the government inspector on a visit here a few days ago. The university has been commended for its regular classes and supervised study has been the rule here, while at many other uni- versities first-class standing there has been no steady program.

The absolute lack of friction between scholastic officials and military authori- ties was also a source of praise from the government agent. Several cases of the evident lack of harmony in near- by colleges have been brought to light in his travels.

In schools like the University of Ten- nessee and Georgia, such the demoli- tion of the training corps will proba- bly cause some havoc on account of the large number of vocational students enrolled. Most of these have had only a grammar school education and con- sequently cannot be admitted to col- lege classes after the government regime ceases to be.

But even where there are no voca- tional students many colleges will have big scholastic troubles. Institutions which did not adopt the system of supervised study and that had a large percentage of students are failing in their courses. At a college not far from Chattanooga, it is reported that over half of the students have neglected their work to such an extent that they will either have to engage private tu- tors or quit school when the training corps is demobilized.

While awaiting further word as to the corps' future, students at the uni- versity are keeping up their regular routine. Rifles have arrived from the federal arsenal, and drill with them may be inaugurated soon.

SOUTH ARRESTED

DRUG STORE ROBBED

An attempt was made to break into drug store No. 2.

GHETTO DISTRICT BURNED

Streets Filled With Charred Bodies of Murdered Jews.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—(A. P.)—The charge that the Poles, after capturing Lemberg, the Galician capital, sacked the Jewish quarter, where the victims numbered several thousand, is made by the Lemberg correspondents of the Berlin Tri- bute, who says he left the Galician city Nov. 24. He telegraphs his news- paper from Breslau as follows:

Since Friday Lemberg, which has been the scene of desperate street fight- ing, is again in the hands of the Poles after having been stubbornly defend- ed by the Ukrainians. The casualties among the soldiers and civilians are es- timated as in excess of 3,000. A large section of the inner city was completely destroyed.

Surrounded by Poles.

Immediately upon entering the city the Poles proceeded to sack and burn the Ghetto district, whose victims num- bered several thousand. The streets were filled with the charred bodies of murdered Jews, many of whom, in the frenzy of despair, had le
